Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions from 31 and 36.

If you think of the jobs robots could never do, you would probably put doctors and teachers at the top of the list. It's easy to imagine robot cleaners and factory workers, but some jobs need human connection and creativity. But are we underestimating what robots can do? In some cases, they already perform better than doctors diagnosing illnesses. Also, some patients might feel more comfortable sharing personal information with a machine than a person. Could there be a place for robots in education after all?

British education expert Anthony Seldon thinks so. And he even has a date for the robot takeover of the classroom: 2027. He predicts robots will do the main job of transferring information and teachers will be like assistants. Intelligent robots will read students' faces, movements and maybe even brain signals. Then they will adapt the information to each student. It's not a popular opinion and it's unlikely that robots will ever have empathy and the ability to really connect with humans like another human can.

One thing is certain, though. A robot teacher is better than no teacher at all. In some parts of the world, there aren't enough teachers and 9-16 percent of children under the age of 14 don't go to school. That problem can be partly solved by robots because they can teach anywhere and won't get stressed, or tired.

Question 31. Which of the following can be the best title for the passage?

- A. Human teachers never get tired.
- B. Robots will replace human teachers completely.
- C. Robots will play a role in education.
- D. Robots are better than human teachers.

Question 34. Which of the following statements is NOT true according to the passage?

- A. Robots have better connections with students than teachers do.
B. There aren't enough teachers in some places.
C. Robots can teach without getting stressed.
D. Robots can do better than doctors in some situations.

Question 35. What is one problem that robots could help solve in education?

- A. Lack of creativity in teaching
B. Not enough qualified teachers
C. High cost of education
D. Need for emotional support

Question 36. The word empathy in paragraph 2 is OPPOSITE in meaning to _____.
