Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

For centuries, humans have wondered if life exists on other planets. With advancements in technology, this question is closer to being answered than ever before. Scientists have discovered thousands of planets outside our solar system, some of which have conditions that could support life. These planets are called "exoplanets," and they orbit stars just like Earth orbits the Sun.

One of the most important factors for life is water. Many scientists believe that if water exists on another planet, life could exist there too. In recent years, telescopes have found signs of water on a few distant planets, raising hopes that we are not alone in the universe.

Another exciting idea is the possibility of life on moons in our own solar system. For example, Europa, one of Jupiter's moons, has a thick layer of ice on its surface. Underneath that ice, there may be oceans of liquid water, which could provide the perfect environment for life to exist.

Even though we have not found life yet, the search continues. Missions are being planned to explore these distant worlds in more detail. In the future, we may discover that life exists in places we never imagined.

27. The word which in paragraph 1 refers to _____.

- A. scientists
- B. planets
- C. solar system

D. conditions

28. The word distant in paragraph 2 is OPPOSITE in meaning to _____.

A. remote

B. alone

C. near

D. visible

29. What can be inferred about the possibility of life on Europa, one of Jupiter's moons?

A. There may be liquid water under Europa's ice.

B. There is absolutely no water on Europa.

C. Europa is too cold for any life to exist.

D. The environment on Europa is perfect for life to exist.

30. Which of the following is NOT TRUE according to the passage?

A. Some exoplanets have conditions that could support life.

B. Scientists have found living creatures on Europa.

C. Telescopes have detected signs of water on distant planets.

D. Europa is a moon that might have oceans under its ice.

31. According to the passage, why is water important for finding life on other planets?

A. Water can destroy harmful bacteria on planets.

B. Water makes the planet warmer.

C. Water attracts living creatures from Earth.

D. Water is vital for life, so if it exists, life could exist there too.

32. What is the main idea of the passage?

A. Humans may soon be able to travel to other planets.

B. Scientists are finding more planets with signs that life might exist.

C. Water is the only thing needed for life on other planets.

D. Europa is the only place in space where life can exist.
